Neuse Little Theatre's Summer Drama Program

Back for another summer! Neuse Little Theatre is sponsoring it's summer program for students (ages 8-18) to learn about theatre. Students will be taught the basics about acting, makeup, costuming, lighting, sound, and more. The two week session will finish with a full production, featuring what the students have learned over the summer course. Though not part of the regular season, we encourage everyone to come and support NLT's next generation. Sign up early, space is limited.

The inhabitants of one of the smallest trailer parks in Texas are thrown for a loop when the nearby town is determined to annex them. It's not like they don't have enough to deal with: Joveeta has been passed over for a promotion, is in an ongoing battle to keep her feisty mother out of the local bar, and worries her good-ol'-boy brother is taking his participation in a womanless beauty pageant way too seriously. Georgia is struggling to keep her diner and finances afloat, but can't curb her impulse to take in every stray cat, possum, and armadillo that wanders by. Ethel, who's nobody's fool, is continually frustrated by her clients at Stairway To Heaven Retirement Village and her mule-headed husband who shows far more affection for his BarcaLounger than for her. The residents are plagued by the curmudgeon across the road, who loathes their "trailer-trash" ways. They'll all have to work together to survive being swallowed up by "the big guys."

It's Christmas Eve, 1943, and the Feddington Players are now broadcasting from a hole-in-the-wall studio in Newark, NJ, and set to present their contemporary "take" on Dickens's A Christmas Carol. Whether it's the noisy plumbing, missed cues, electrical blackouts, or the over-the-top theatrics of veteran actor, but radio novice, William St. Claire, this radio show is an entertaining excursion into the mayhem and madness of a live radio show. Escalating foibles and acting missteps propel the show to a simultaneously comedic and heart-wrenching dramatic climax. In order to "save the show," the company improvises an ending to Charles Dickens' classic as a film noir mystery, featuring a hardboiled detective, a femme fatale, and an absurd rescue of Tiny Tim (and the Lindbergh baby) from the clutches of a Hitler-esque villain named Rudolf!

Leonard Vole stands accused of murdering a rich widow. The stakes are high with shocking witness testimony, impassioned outbursts from the dock and a young man's fight to escape the hangman's noose. Generally regarded as one of Christie's most accomplished plays, this suspenseful thriller keeps audiences guessing until the very end.

Upon discovering a stray dog on her back porch, Mattie Rigsbee decides she's too old to keep a pet and calls the dogcatcher. Little does she know that the dogcatcher, Lamar Benfield, will open her eyes to a whole world she never knew existed, a world that includes car theft, prison breaks and a juvenile delinquent named Wesley who is as desperate for a family as she is. Armed with only her mouthwatering corn bread and a deep abiding faith in the Almighty, Mattie is determined to woo Wesley to the side of God and good Southern manners ... if she can just manage to stay out of jail herself.

Roads are flooded, bridges are washed out, and less generous souls are staying safely indoors, but it takes more than a little rain to keep the ladies of the Charitable Sisterhood from fulfilling their sworn mission. Bea Littleton is the pastor's wife; Lorraine Jensen is the tireless mother of nine; Tina Yates is the transplanted Yankee; and Janet Murchison is the newest arrival. When these ladies meet to organize a relief effort for homeless Guatemalans, they are greeted with a mountain of community donations—but one woman's junk is another woman's treasure, and that pile of stuff in this little church basement is hiding a thing or two. Our angels of mercy will leave you breathless with laughter as they do their best to help the victims of global disaster, spiritual deprivation and, most of all, one another.
